

Bats: Learn all about these misunderstood animals and why they are important

Small Woodlots Matter

Join us on Thursday, July 20, 8:30 p.m. at Glacier Ridge Metro Park to learn about bats, how they use woodlots in central Ohio, and the important role that bats play in our environment. We will journey on a 1-mile nature walk listening to and recording bat echolocation calls with bat detectors as they hunt for their evening meal. Please bring comfortable walking shoes and a flashlight.

When: Thursday, July 20, 8:30–10 p.m.

Free event.*
